STEWARDS' CUP

RACE HISTORY

Helene Paragon in 2017 is the latest in a distinguished line of crack milers to have won the Stewards' Cup. Last year's race was the third Stewards' Cup to have been staged at international Group 1 level, having been designated HKG1 since 1991 when the Pattern race system was introduced to Hong Kong.

The race itself dates back to 1954 when, on 22 May of that year, the first running of the Stewards' Cup took place at Happy Valley Racecourse. That inaugural race was staged over 1200m and the distance stayed relatively consistent at around six furlongs until 1973, when Jungfrau won the first edition at around a mile – 1650m, to be precise. The distance was upped to 1800m the following year and, after four subsequent renewals at 1235m, the race was extended to 1400m upon its relocation to Sha Tin in 1979. It remained as a 1400m contest until 1991, with the exception of the 1983 race, which took place on Sha Tin's sand track over 1650m.

The 1991 race saw the Stewards' Cup gain a new identity as an elite mile contest. The Jockey Club moved it from a March slot to November and established it as the first leg of the newly-created Hong Kong Triple Crown. That year's race went to the Patrick Biancone-trained Mastermind, ridden by Gerald Mosse. Two years later the David Hill-trained River Verdon took the spoils under Basil Marcus en route to becoming Hong Kong's only Triple Crown winner.

Since the turn of the century, the Stewards' Cup has emerged as a world-class contest. Its roll-call of winners features superstars such as Good Ba Ba, Ambitious Dragon, Bullish Luck, Fairy King Prawn, Electronic Unicorn and Able Friend. John Size is the most successful trainer in the race's history with five wins, while the contest's most successful jockey is Basil Marcus, also with five, one of which was achieved before the race was raised to its elite status.

STEWARDS' CUP

LAST YEAR'S RACE

Helene Paragon fulfilled the promise of an arguably unlucky second in the previous month's G1 LONGINES Hong Kong Mile with a breakthrough top-flight victory that owed as much to his toughness as to his class. After settling back in the pack, six lengths behind pace-setter Beauty Flame, John Moore's charge crept into contention on the sweep towards the home turn. But as the field straightened, Helen Paragon was trapped in a pocket with the one-paced Giant Treasure racing on his outside flank, blocking his progress.

As that rival began to wilt with 350m to race, jockey Tommy Berry took his chance and angled Helene Paragon through a narrow opening. The Polan entire buffeted and charged his way into the clear, sprinted past the breakout leader Contentment, and held on from his closing stablemates Joyful Trinity and Able Friend.

"It's a Group 1 race and there's never an inch given, you expect that in Group 1s, especially here in Hong Kong," Berry said. "I knew I was on the right horse to do what I did, and if I wasn't I probably wouldn't have done it because I put myself in a sticky spot – when I pushed out he wanted to go again. Horses don't usually push out like that and balance up and quicken as well as he does – usually it takes them a few strides. It shows his quality."

RACE HISTORY

The Centenary Sprint Cup is Hong Kong's newest international Group 1, although the race dates back to November, 1984 when it was first run as the Centenary Cup. It was inaugurated to celebrate the centenary of the Hong Kong Jockey Club, which was founded in 1884.

Switched between Sha Tin and Happy Valley for the first seven runnings, it was established as a HKG2 in March over the Sha Tin 1200m when the pattern system was introduced in Hong Kong in the 1991/92 season. In 1994, the race was changed from a handicap to set weights and the distance was reduced to 1000m, where it would remain until 2016.

In 2001, the race – now renamed the Centenary Sprint Cup – was upgraded to HKG1 status, with prize money increased to HK$4.5 million – the race that year went to Tony Cruz-trained King Of Danes, the only three-year-old to win since the contest gained Group status. In 2006, it was programmed as the first leg of the Hong Kong Speed Series.

Last year, it was run as an international Group 2 for the first time, before receiving top billing as of 2018, with prize money increased to HK$10 million.

The great Silent Witness features prominently among the race's honour roll, with other multiple winners including Best Of The Best, Scintillation, Sacred Kingdom and Peniaphobia – the last-named won the race over both 1000m and 1200m. Also winning the race were Hong Kong Sprint winners Absolute Champion and Aerovelocity, while speed machine Amber Sky took the race en route to winning the G1 Al Quoz Sprint (1000m) in Dubai in 2014.

Tony Cruz is the race's most successful trainer, winning five times to go with his two victories as a jockey. The most successful rider is Felix Coetzee, who won four times.

LAST YEAR'S RACE

Peniaphobia went into the 2017 Centenary Sprint Cup seeking a first win for the season. The Tony Cruz-trained bay had lifted the Cup two years prior when it was staged as a 1000m contest but was sent off the 8/1 fourth pick of eight this time around over 1200m. At the head of the market was Lucky Bubbles, rated an odds-on chance to go one place better than his second to Aerovelocity in the previous month's G1 LONGINES Hong Kong Sprint (1200m).

Peniaphobia burst from the widest gate and jockey Neil Callan hustled his mount past Aerovelocity to enjoy an untroubled sit in front, bounding along on the rain-affected turf. The Irishman crouched into a frenetic drive at the 300m point as Aerovelocity folded and Lucky Bubbles emerged as the prime threat. But as the favourite edged closer, Callan threw the reins at Peniaphobia and the 2015 Hong Kong Sprint hero dug deeper. The brave six-year-old held on for a game win.

"I didn't see any horse coming at me until the last 50 (metres) or last 100 so I wasn't concerned," Callan said. "I didn't even look up at the big screen and normally you would have a little peek. Tony said beforehand, 'if he's going for you when you go at the 300, try not to hit him, don't hit him', so I was just throwing my reins at him and flicking him down the shoulder. Every time I flicked him down the shoulder he gave me a little bit and I just thought 'that's enough, he'll get me to the line'. The last 50, I could see something coming but my horse was giving me plenty."
